Revilla pushes for expansion of Mandatory Immunization Program

Sen. Bong Revilla

Sen. Bong Revilla is seeking for the expansion of the coverage of the mandatory basic immunization program to help prevent the spread of polio and other diseases.

The veteran legislator filed a bill (S. No. 662), "An Act Expanding the Coverage of the Mandatory Basic Immunization Program and Providing a System in the Determination of other types of Vaccine-Preventable Diseases," to amend the purpose of R.A. 10152, or the "Mandatory Infants and Children Health Immunization Act of 2011."

and polio. While the increase of the immunization program coverage remains a challenge, Bong Revilla wants to address the insufficient list of mandatory basic immunization to completely protect the infants and children.

Once Republic Act 10152 is amended, vaccinations for Rotavirus, Japanese Encephalitis (JE), Pneumococcal Conjugate

Vaccine (PCV), and Fluman Papilloma Virus (FIPV) will be included in the list of annual vaccines given by the government. The inclusion of the vaccines in the list will be very beneficial not only for the health of infants and children, but also for the mothers who can avail of it for free in any government hospital or health center.

This bill also mandates the Formulary Executive Council (FEC) and the National Immunization Committee (NIC) to make recommendations to the Secretary of Health as to other types of vaccines that should be included in the list, and to provide technical support for the National Immunization Program of the Department of Health (DOH).

Revilla also deemed the bill necessary after DOH declared a National Dengue Outbreak last month, and after two cases of polio have been recently reported.

DOST SIGNS MOU WITH US-ASEAN BUSINESS COUNCIL

DOST Secretary Fortunato T. De La Peña and US-ASEAN Business Council President Alexander C. Feldman present the newly signed MOU that will encourage cooperation and partnership between the government and private sector in the promotion of science, technology and innovation.

Manila, Philippines-- DOST and the US-ASEAN Business Council (US-ABC) signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to promote the development and implementation of science, technology and innovation initiatives of the government in the private sector, last Sep. 16.

The signing ceremony with DOST Secretary Fortunato De La Peña took place during the Council's 2019 Business Mission to the Philippines, an annual set of meetings promoting dialogue between U.S. private sector and the Philippine government.

Secretary De La Peña expressed optimism for the MOU. "The MOU between DOST and the Council will enable us to fast-track and strengthen collaboration between industry and government. We welcome dialogue and partnership with US firms in our drive to enhance research and innovation across all sectors and build S&T capacities in the Philippines," he said.

US-ABC is a premier advocacy organization of several top US companies including Amazon, Cargill, CISCO, CITI, Coca-Cola, EXXONMobil, Fluor, IBM, Philip Morris, Procter & Gamble, Sanofi, Texas Instrument, Visa, among others.

"The Philippines' innovation story deserves recognition and support along with its high economic growth trajectory," said Ambassador Michael W. Michalak, US-ABC Senior Vice President and Regional Managing Director. "The country broke into the group of innovation achievers of the Global Innovation Index for the first time this year. Our member companies hope to contribute even more to the Philippines' innovation efforts and strengthen the country's science-based policy-making and adherence to international standards. We are excited to facilitate an internship-to-employment program under this MOU whereby DOST scholars can apply for career opportunities within the network of the Council."

The forms of cooperation under the MOU include information exchange on industry development initiatives, research programs, science-based decision making, international approaches to transparency, standards-setting, technology regulation and technology transfer support. Furthermore, the memorandum encourages commercialization of research through start-up initiatives such as incubation and market needs assessment. # Bishop urges strong response to polio epidemic

A Catholic bishop has called on the government to take immediate action amid a polio epidemic or outbreak in the country.

Bishop Broderick Pabillo, the auxiliary of Manila, said efforts must be made to eliminate the disease, such as by achieving high rates of vaccination of children.

The Department of Health recently confirmed the return of the dreaded disease after two decades of being a polio-free country.

"It is very sad that there is a re-emergence of polio after having eliminated it for many years," Pabillo said.

"This tells us that we should not let down our guard in fighting diseases," he said.

The prelate also joined the calls for parents to have their kids vaccinated amid a polio epidemic in the country.

He said that there is no place for complacency when it comes to keeping the country polio-free.

"We encourage parents to have their children vaccinated against polio," Pabillo said.

The bishop said the fear of the parents will have to be addressed by educating the public about the polio vaccine "that it is safe and necessary".

"DOH should also be warned to be very transparent in its programs to gain the trust of the people and to allay their fears," he added.

The agency earlier confirmed two polio cases in the country affecting a three-year-old girl in Lanao del Sur and a five-year-old boy in Laguna.

Polio is a highly contagious disease caused by a virus that invades the nervous system causing paralysis and on rare occasion, the DOH said, can be fatal.

The disease mostly affects children under the age of 5 and is transmitted by person-to-person.

While there is no cure, the virus is preventable by vaccine, according to health officials.

through creation of an LGBT organization in Cavite.

Speaking on the 2nd day of the event, Dr. Nelson Soriano, officer-in-charge of the Public Health and Technical Services and Head of Provincial Epidemiology Service Unit of the PHO challenged all the participants to help address the alarming health issue of HIV pointing out that "open networking like social media as a big help in solving the challenges encountered."

6th District Board Member Kerby Salazar, Chairperson-Committee on Health, Nutrition and Population suggested the creation of a program designed for everyone not just focused on LGBT community.

"More than increasing awareness, activities and programs that can help end the stigma should be formulated," said BM Salazar and promised to utilize his term to improve the healthcare and nutrition program in the province.

The event also served as a venue for the recognition of the major accomplishments of the Provincial HIV Program.

The status and accomplishments of the four treatment hubs: the Bacoor Social Hygiene Clinic; Imus Reproductive and Wellness Center; Dasmariñas Social Hygiene Clinic; and Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo Memorial Hospital Treatment Hub were discussed by their respective HIV program coordinator. (Ruel Francisco, PIA-Cavite/with reports from PICAD) enter the labor force especially on the socio-emotional skills that will be in need such as communication, creative thinking, collaboration, and problem solving."

Jalbuena pointed out that educators must further innovate on teaching soft-skills rather than prepare the students for jobs that would not exist in the near future.

Special guest speaker Labor and Employment Assistant Secretary Mariano R. Alquiza described the need to produce "future-ready workforce" based on data from the World Economic Forum's Report on the Future of Jobs. The report said that about 7M jobs will be lost due to automation while the International Labor Organization predicts that about half of jobs in five Southeast Asian countries which includes the Philippines are at high risk of being affected by automation.

Mr. Alquiza said that "to produce a future-ready workforce, we must change our approaches towards the holistic development of education and training and our view of learning more generally."

He further encouraged everyone to continue the great work that has been done relative to the reforms in education, training, and employment and stressed that all having a stake on this, "We must come and work together to be able to minimize the negative effects and harness the benefits of Industry 4.0."

JobsFit 2022 Labor Market Information Report highlighted that with Industry 4.0, emerging jobs include business process analysts, mobile app developers, search engine optimization analysts, and social media analysts.

Relevant topics tackled included: Gearing up for the Future of Work: Harnessing the Impacts of the Fourth Industrial Revolution; Role of Career Guidance and Employment Coaching in Shaping the Future Workforce; Developing the Future Workforce: The Academe Perspectives; and Mental Health and Socio-Emotional Skills Development in the Digital-Age.

These topics will help the participant stakeholders to be better informed and competent to continuously shape their students on becoming more employable and adaptive to a productive employment.

Quoting Alvin Toffler Mr. Alquiza said, "The illiterate of the 21st Century will not be those who cannot read and write, but those who cannot learn, unlearn and relearn." (Ruel Francisco, PIA-Cavite/with reports from PICAD)
