

Ospital ng Imus now fully operational

IMUS CITY, Cavite (PIA) – The city government of Imus announced that the Ospital ng Imus (ONI), the first public hospital in the 1st District of Imus, is now fully operational.

“The Ospital ng Imus will be able to treat residents in need of medical services with its Out-patient and Emergency departments fully manned and equipped,” Mr. Jay Saquilayan head of the City Information Office said.

Saquilayan added that admissions could accommodate as much as 130 patients to its 22 wards and 19 private rooms with 130 beds.

The hospital which was formally opened to the public last October 15, 2018 is a three-story Level 1 hospital that was constructed under the Department of Health’s (DOH) Health Facilities Enhancement Program (HFEP) which objective is to upgrade health facilities and provide training to health professionals and improve access of people to quality health care services.

The event is initiated by the Department of Trade and Industry-Cavite in support to the PCBI and the municipality of Amadeo.

“The PCBI field office shall be leveraged to bring back the farmers’ enthusiasm by helping them produce more, and let them sell at a better price,” said PCBI chairperson

House sets minimum age of social responsibility at 12

QUEZON CITY, (PIA) -- The House of Representatives approved on second reading on Wednesday House Bill 8858, seeking to lower the minimum age of social responsibility from 15 years old to 12 years old.

The bill, principally authored by Majority Leader Fredenil Castro, expands the scope of the juvenile justice and welfare system and strengthens the social reintegration programs for children in conflict with the law, amending Republic Act 9344 or the Juvenile Justice and Welfare Act of 2006.

“In this case, its very clear and apparent that the committee report of the Committee on Justice proposing for a minimum age of social responsibility—it was termed as social responsibility, was moved from nine to 12. It was the consensus of the group,” House Committee on Justice chair Rep. Doy Leachon (1st District, Oriental Mindoro), who sponsored the bill on the floor, said.

Leachon added that an overwhelming majority of House Members welcomed the shift pegging 12 years old as the new minimum, including all the co-authors of the measure.

Leachon stressed that the measure focuses on safeguarding children through reform and rehabilitation.

He further shared that most of the changes approved at the committee level which include changing the term “minimum age of criminal responsibility” to “minimum age of social responsibility” were carried over into the most recent version of the bill.

Insertions on second reading include provisions to ensure funding for the development of Bahay Pag-asa, a 24-hour child-caring institution that provides short-term residential care for children.

SERVING THE PUBLIC THRU UGNAYAN SA BARANGAY

In its continuous service to the public, Cavite Governor Boying Remulla reaches out to his constituents thru another leg of Ugnayan sa Barangay on January 24, 2019 held at the municipal covered court of Amadeo, Cavite. The governor visited the locals of the town to inspire them and hear out their immediate needs. The local leaders headed by Mayor Conrado Viado and Vice Mayor Junnel Bayot together with Sanggunian Bayan members and Barangay Captains welcomed the whole Ugnayan team. They were joined by Indang Councilor Ping Remulla and Tanza Councilor Lito Langit. Also gracing the event were former Presidential Adviser for Political Affairs Francis Tolentino, former Special Assistant to the President Bong Go and Former Communications Assistant Secretary Mocha Uson.

ANGARA BATS FOR CREATION OF GOV'T BODY FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

Senator Sonny Angara has filed a bill that would create a government agency devoted to attending to the needs and concerns of senior citizens.

Senate Bill No. 2099 calls for the creation of the Council for the Welfare of Senior Citizens (CWSC) under the Office of the President that would formulate, coordinate and monitor policies and programs that promote the rights and privileges of the senior citizens' sector.

"Our Filipino citizens have contributed immensely to the growth and progress of the country. As they reach the twilight of their lives, it is our responsibility as a society to respect, protect and promote their rights and assure their physical, mental and social well-being," Angara said.

Based on the 2010 census, there were 6.23 million Filipinos aged 60 years and above. Its projection showed that the number would reach double digit to 14.2 million in 2030 and 22.5 million in 2045.

Angara, however, said his bill will help address what he called an "obvious institutional gap."

Unlike other underserved sectors, he said, the senior citizens sector "does not have a particular national government body devoted to serve their interests" like the National Council on Disability Affairs which handles the concerns of persons with disability, or the Philippine Commission on Women and the Council on the Welfare of Children, which take care of the needs of women and children, respectively.

"Though there exists, at present, an Office of Senior Citizens Affairs in cities and municipalities, there is no central leadership to guide policies on a national scale and ensure that senior citizens receive equal opportunities regardless of their place of residence," Angara explained.

The proposed CWSC will serve as the overall monitoring and oversight body to ensure the implementation of all laws, programs and services for the benefit of senior citizens.

Angara and his father, the late Senate

Senate, House Convene Bicam on 2019 Budget: The Senate and the House of Representatives convened on Tuesday, January 22, the bicameral conference committee to reconcile the differences in their respective versions of the proposed 2019 national budget worth P3.757 trillion. Senator Loren Legarda, Chair of the Senate Committee on Finance, said that the bicameral panel will use the 2019 National Expenditure Program (NEP) as point of reference, but will also consider the House and Senate versions of the General Appropriations Bill (GAB).

DBP partners with LGU GenTri

General Trias City, Cavite (PIA) – The Development Bank of the Philippines (DBP) recently entered into a partnership agreement with the local government of General Trias to further improve its administration and provision of services to its constituents.

The undertaking will involve projects for the automation of its human resource and payroll processing and the setting-up of Point-of-Sale system (POS) and internet payment gateway (IPG) facilities.

"With the POS facility, residents and business owners in General Trias City can now pay their real property taxes using debit, credit and prepaid cards, while the IPG would facilitate online acceptance of payments of the taxpayers' real property and business dues," DBP president and chief executive officer Cecilia Borromeo said.

DBP will also install two additional ATMs in the city to serve the local government's employees and its residents.

General Trias City Mayor Antonio Ferrer explained that these improvements will help the city government create payment options for the convenience of its resident constituents which will result to increase in tax collections as well as efficiency in services provided to residents and generate savings from decrease in operational expenses. CALABARZON DA 4A to harmonize interventions for better service

CALAMBA CITY, Laguna, (PIA) – For this year, the Department of Agriculture Region 4A (DA 4A) aims to harmonize their interventions to avoid redundancy of programs and better cater the needs of their beneficiaries.

This is what DA 4A Regional Director Arnel V. de Mesa emphasized during their Indicative Planning Workshop on January 16-18, 2018 in Tagaytay City.

He stressed the need to harmonize the interventions crafted and implemented by the department in order to avoid redundancy or having projects and programs that are overlapping in purpose and output.

Instead, the Director wants to ensure that projects given to beneficiaries are those that they really need and what they have requested.

Some of the big ticket projects of the department for 2020 include the construction of farm-to-market roads and various post-harvest facilities, distribution of farm inputs, animal dispersal, and establishment of slaughterhouses, among many others. Projects considered as big tickets were the proposals worth greater than or equal to five million pesos. The workshop was participated by the division chiefs, staff and banner program coordinators of the regional office. (Joy Gabrido, PIA4A/DA4A)

LGU Bacoor recognizes dedicated employees

BACOOR CITY, Cavite (PIA) – The city government of Bacoor led by Mayor Lani Mercado-Revilla expressed appreciation to the dedicated efforts shown by the local government employees through the recent commendation of their outstanding city units and employees during last Monday’s flag raising ceremony at the Bacoor Government Center grounds.

The awardees who were given recognition include: the Bacoor Home Owners Association Council, Inc. for claiming the first place in the Urban Nutrition Organic Garden Inter-Department competition; the City Accounting Office which landed second place; and the Human Resource and Development Management Department for third place.

Meanwhile, Arlene Monton and Karl Arciaga won the City Employees Biggest Loser 2018 S2 for leading a fit and healthy lifestyle.

During the program, distribution of financial assistance for the procurement of office equipment and supplies of Barangay Panapaan 2, Zapote 1, Mabolo 2, Talaba 3, Mabolo 1, Maliksi 1, and Talaba 4 was also held.

Revilla acknowledged all awardees and all the employees who pushed for excellence and encouraged them to pursue these endeavors in their mission to serve the public. (Ruel Francisco, PIA-Cavite/with reports from Bacoor City Information Office) dren in conflict with the law.

Under the House panel’s proposed bill, the Department of Social Welfare and Development will build, fund and run Bahay Pag-asa facilities. Congress will allocate funds for Bahay Pag-asa annually.

It would be noted that in a Senate hearing, Tricia Oco, executive director of the government’s Juvenile Justice and Welfare Council, lamented on the subhuman conditions of some “Bahay Pag-asa” due to budget constraints.

“They lack the minimum staff requirement; they even lack food for children. Some of the Bahay Pag-asa that we saw are worse than prisons. They don’t have programs, beds and cabinets,” Oco told the Senate committee on justice led by Sen. Richard Gordon Tuesday.

Oco added that there are only 63 Bahay Pag-asa facilities nationwide, five of which are no longer operational.

Under the provisions of the measure, a child under 18 years old who commits a petty crime shall not be subjected to mandatory confinement in a Bahay Pag-asa facility.

Mandatory confinement shall be implemented if the crime committed by the child in conflict with the law is a serious offense; if they are neglected children, meaning they do not have a family; or if it is a case of recidivism.

If there is no Bahay Pag-asa facility in the area to cater to the child, they will be temporarily released on recognizance to their parents. (PIA-NCR with reports from Press and Public Affairs Bureau/House of Representatives)

DOH LEADS OBSERVANCE OF GOITER AWARENESS WEEK (GAW) 2019

The Department of Health (DOH) today leads the nation in observing the Goiter Awareness Week (GAW) 2019 with the theme, “Goiter Sugpuin, Isip Patalinuhin, Iodized Salt Gamitin,” which aims to highlight the vital role of iodized salt in preventing thyroid disorders such as goiter. Partners and stakeholders like the Philippine Thyroid Association, Philippine Society of Endocrinology, Diabetes and Metabolism, Iodine Global Network, National Nutrition Council and DOST-FNRI will also disseminate information and educate the public on the effects of iodine deficiency.

According to the 2012 Philippine Thyroid Diseases Study (PhilTiDes-1), the prevalence of thyroid function abnormalities in the Philippines is 8.53% among the adult population, and among the thyroid disorders, goiter is most common with a prevalence rate of 10.12%.

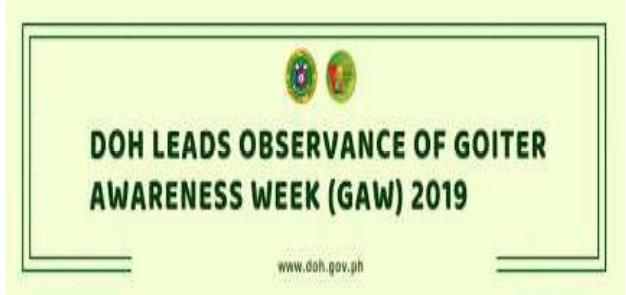

Meanwhile, the 2013 National Nutrition Survey revealed that about 5.8 million Filipinos were afflicted with thyroid disorders in different clinical presentations. These manifest as goiter, thyroid malignancy, mental deficiency, physical deformities, congenital hypothyroidism, cretinism, and reproductive failure. If untreated, these disorders could lead to the detrimental reduction of intellectual and physical capacity and even death among susceptible individuals.

People with goiter often have an abnormal enlargement of the thyroid gland which can lead to the appearance of a mass or swelling in the neck. The signs and symptoms of goiter can be varied and may include tiredness, a decrease or increase in weight, low or increased appetite, depression, dryness of skin and hair, sleepiness, diarrhea or constipation and menstrual irregularities (for women). People who experience these symptoms should immediately see a doctor.

Since iodine deficiency is the most common cause of goiter in the Philippines, people are advised to use iodized salts in their meals and to eat food rich in iodine such as dairy products, seafood (shellfish and seaweeds), meats, bread and eggs. Special attention should be provided to pregnant women because iodine deficiency during this critical period can cause premature birth, miscarriage or delivery of a baby with low intellect.

To address this health concern, the DOH, in collaboration with different organizations, will be conducting a Partner’s Forum and Basic Thyroid Course on January 23, 2019 in Baguio City at Venus Parkview Hotel. The campaign aims to disseminate the ill effects, prevention, and signs and symptoms of goiter or boso in Filipino.

Goiter Awareness Week is observed every 4th week of January of every year declared under Presidential Proclamation 1188 on December 11, 2006.

“I hope and I pray that something good will come out of the BOL. Though the plebiscite is forthcoming, we have every reason to believe that it would pass the people’s will at sana magkaroon tayo ng kapayapaan because if not mahirapan tayo nito.” Duterte said.

According to Pres. Duterte, the presidency was a gift from God and, in turn, he will do his job conscientiously with the fight against drugs topping his agenda. He, however, admitted the gravity of the problem is overwhelming, saying “I could not really fulfill my promise to do away with drugs within six years. Impossible... It’s going to be a continuing one.”

The president even made a stern warning that in the remaining three years of his term, his administration will be targeting ‘big time’ people involved in illegal drugs.

Duterte’s war on drugs has been continuously subjected to various criticisms from the religious and civil society groups but the President maintains the effects of drugs have wreaked havoc to families, making some of them dysfunctional, and to the community, in general with crimes such as robbery, rape, and murder.

After his speech, President Duterte willingly obliged for photo ops, first with the Tolentino clan, then with the local government officials of CALABARZON. He was later serenaded with Tagalog songs by singer Faith Cuneta. (Ruel Francisco, PIA-Cavite)

Calabarzon region, as well as its provincial offices in Pampanga and Bataan, will also be involved in the rehabilitation efforts.

He also underscored the need to “clean the water source, so as to put an end to pollution.”

“We need to find out where the outfalls come from individually, because in just one estero we can find lots of outfalls,” Cimatú pointed out.

A list of local establishments that violated environmental laws will be released on Jan. 27, Cimatú revealed.

Although Manila Bay is still known for having one of the most beautiful sunsets, its waters are considered the most polluted in the country due to domestic sewage, toxic industrial effluents from factories and shipping operations, and leachate from garbage dumps, among others.

Cimatú said the waters along the Roxas Boulevard, which has the best view of the sunset, is even “worse than Boracay.”

“We have seen the problem closely this time, and we have already laid out a detailed solution,” he added.

The DENR’s goal, he said, is to bring down the coliform level in all esteros to 100 most probable number (MPN) per 100 milliliters (mL).

Cimatú shared that reforestation of mangrove areas in the Las Piñas-Parañaque Critical Habitat and Ecotourism Area or LPPCHEA is also included in the rehabilitation plan.

The DENR chief also bared that Malacañang has approved a budget amounting to P42.95 billion for three years. This amount will cover cleanup of priority waterways, relocation of informal settler families (ISFs), and implementation of temporary sanitation facilities in ISF communities prior to relocation. Gov. Boying Remulla led another “Kalinga sa Kalikasan” clean-up activity on December 14, 2018 to promote a secured and well-kept community through proper environment preservation and nature management starting with a program held at Poblacion Covered Court in the municipality of Noveleta. Noveleta Mayor Dino Chua together with municipal councilors, former Provincial Administrator for Internal Affairs Enrico Alvarez and Cavite City Councilor Rommel Enriquez were present to support the environmental campaign of the provincial government of Cavite.

Meanwhile, on December 17, 2018 more than three thousand agile senior citizen volunteers of the municipality of Amadeo participated in the Kalinga sa Kalikasan project that aimed to protect the environment and control pollution for the sake of their children’s children. Eco-aides from the Provincial Government-Environment and Natural Resources Office (PG-ENRO) along with former Gov. Juanito Victor "Jonvic" Remulla who represented Gov. Boying Remulla, together with Amadeo Mayor Conrado Viado, Vice Mayor Leo Angelo "Junnel" Bayot and members of the Sangguniang Bayan, Engr. Redel Dionisio and Indang Municipal Councilor Ping Remulla.

The communities participating in this worthwhile undertaking are grateful to the efforts of the local governments and concerned agencies but all these are futile efforts if people would not exercise discipline and good practices to help protect the environment. Divine Mercy Reflection God is Relentless in His Love

Do you put God off? Do you ignore His constant calling? Do you drown out His voice with countless distractions? Know that God never ceases to call you. Listen to Him. Sometimes we put God off because we have judged, wrongly, that we will find satisfaction in life by some other means. It could be anything or everything that this passing world seems to offer us. There are so many enticements that bombard us every day that we can easily set God aside and fail to see that radically following Him is the key to happiness. When we radically follow Him in all things we open ourselves to His Divine Mercy and our life is changed. Don't be deceived by the allurements of anything that is not part of the Mercy of God. Do not put Him off (See Diary #9).

Today, honestly look at what draws you here or there. What is it that you daily seek or are seduced by. Recommit to radically seeking our Lord and let Him alone suffice in your life.

Lord, I am constantly drawn here and there and daily find myself seeking things that have nothing to do with You and Your Divine Mercy. Help me to see clearly and to have the wisdom and courage I need to turn only to You and to the abundance of Your unlimited Gift of Mercy. Jesus, I trust in You.
