Polio outbreak in Philippines ends – WHO, UNICEF

"This is a major win for public health and is an excellent example of what collective efforts can attain, even in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic," WHO Philippine Representative Dr. Rabindra Abeyasinghe said.

"We must keep the momentum and accelerate routine immunization and safeguard essential child health services while rolling out COVID-19 vaccines for priority groups," UNICEF Philippines Representative Oyunsai Khan Dendevnorov added.

To prevent an-liovirus type 2 would likely spread rapidly due to the "low level of population immunity" against the virus. The organizations also consider polio outbreaks as a public health emergency.

Poliovirus is a highly contagious disease that can affect the nervous system.

Polio symptoms include fever, fatigue, headache, vomiting, stiff neck, and sudden floppy arms or legs. It can lead to permanent paralysis or, worse, death.

Adopting sustainable tourism for the environment

MANILA — In celebration of World Environment Day 2021 on June 5, the Department of Tourism (DOT) urged hotels and resorts to become DOT-accredited to receive assistance in its rapid adoption of sustainable practices.

"Reviving local economy and creating livelihood is DOT's current priority. However, the pandemic has allowed us to be more persistent in our goal to instill accountability in businesses to become more sustainable," Tourism Secretary Berna Romulo-Puyat said in a press statement released Friday night.

Puyat explained that the perks of being accredited equate to getting assistance from the DOT in many aspects of running a tourism enterprise, but more specifically, access to technical tools and experts that can help an establishment make the transition to going green.

"(The) DOT will continue to focus on marketing sustainability to the public, educating them on how to be sustainable tourists while also encouraging tourists to support accredited businesses that have exemplary green practices," she said.

Setting the foundation

The Tourism Act of 2009, the Philippines' first and only tourism law, has long served as the top tourism body's bible in coming up with programs that would benefit the industry.

A recent example is DOT's 2019 Save Our Spots (SOS) campaign, which aimed to inspire the public, businesses, and communities to have a long-term view on tourism.

Another is the department's Joint Memorandum Circular on the Rules and Regulations Governing the Conduct of Marine Wildlife Tourism Interaction in the Philippines, together with the departments of environment, agriculture, and interior.

"The DOT has been working on integrating sustainable tourism principles in its projects and policies. We have been teaching our tourists and tourism operators to do the small things we can do to preserve our tourism destinations," Puyat said.

The DOT also conducts community-based training for the tourism workforce, including boatmen, mass-seuses, and souvenir vendors, to provide them with technical skills and knowledge that will help them do their jobs better.

Food waste management seminars are also offered to accommodation and restaurant owners and culinary training that aim to reintroduce heritage or local dishes to tourists.

Adopting green practices

The number one asset of tourism is the country's natural resources, and tourism establishments have a role in conserving these.

The DOT has revised the accreditation standards for hotels and resorts to incorporate environmental indicators in the star rating system of these types of accommodation establishments, aiming to encourage business owners to be more environment-friendly in their day-to-day operations.

Through technical assistance from the European Union-GRAT, the DOT developed the ANAHAW Philippine Sustainable Tourism Certification awards in 2018 for the same reason, making it the local equivalent of the Asean Green Hotel Awards.

ANAHAW looks into how accommodation establishments manage and reduce their waste, energy consumption, and water consumption.

Corporate social responsibility is also a factor, with establishments that employ locals and purchase local goods fairing higher in the rating system.

The ANAHAW certification will put an enterprise with a com-

68 CASES OF TYPHOID FEVER RECORDED IN CALABARZON

Batangas City - A total of 68 cases of typhoid fever were re-recorded in CALABARZON (Cavite, Laguna, Batangas, Rizal, Quezon) region from January 1, 2021 to May 29, 2021 as the Department of Health (DOH) regional office continue to remind residents to practice personal hygiene.

The province of Laguna recorded the highest incidence of typhoid fever with 30 cases followed by Cavite with 26; Rizal with 6 and Batangas with 1.

Although there is a significant decrease in cases for the same period last year with 191 cases recorded by the Regional Epidemiology and Surveillance Unit (RESU), there is a need to be cautious to avoid the life-threatening illness.

DOH - CALABARZON Regional Medical Technologist, Kimberly B. Cu stated that typhoid fever is common in areas with poor hygiene and sanitation and lack of safe drinking water source.

"If you are unsure of the quality of the water, especially those taken from deep wells which are untreated, it is best to boil it for at least 2 minutes to kill bacteria."

"Also avoid eating unsanitary street-vended food as they are commonly exposed to insects and various environmental elements. When eating raw fruit and vegetables wash them thoroughly with clean water."

"Essentially, wash hands properly with soap and water before and after eating and also after using the toilet as it is the best way to control infection," Cu said.

Typhoid is an infectious disease caused by the bacteria Salmonella typhi and is transmitted by fecal oral route or by consuming food and/or water contaminated by the bacteria.

A person with typhoid fever usually suffers from sustained high fever, headache, malaise (weakness), loss of appetite and diarrhea or constipation.

"If a member of the family is suffering from any of the symptoms mentioned, you must bring the person immediately to the nearest hospital for immediate treatment.

"The only effective treatment for the illness is antibiotics such as ciprofloxacin (for non-pregnant adults) and ceftriaxone for pregnant patients. Give them plenty of water to rehydrate," she emphasized.
