DOLE strengthens commitment to achieve child labor-free PH

The labor department has strengthened its commitment of achieving a child-labor free Philippines as it pushes for more inclusive and preventive interventions in combatting child labor and its worst forms.

Labor Secretary Silvestre Bello III said DOLE has so far profiled

85,582 child laborers in 16 regions of which 18,651 were referred to appropriate agencies for the provision of services and assistance needed by the children and their families.

"Profiling of the child laborers is our strategic way of withdrawing children from child labor. We must first assess their needs and refer these children and their families to appropriate agencies and organizations for the provision of necessary assistance to remove them from child labor," Bello said.

Apart from the nationwide profiling, DOLE has also provided livelihood assistance in form of ...Page 4

Calabarzon health workers undergo sign language training

SAN MATEO, Rizal – Some 60 health workers in Calabarzon are now undergoing a workshop on the use of basic Filipino Sign Language (FSL) for patients with hearing and speaking impairments, an official of the Department of Health (DOH) Calabarzon said on Wednesday.

“Now that we have the Universal Health Care Law and the Filipino Sign Language Law, we now have the legal mandate to mainstream FSL training in government agencies especially among health workers in the health system,” DOH Calabarzon Director Dr. Eduardo Janairo said in a speech.

Health workers, such as medical doctors, nurses, health promotion officers, primary care providers like the barangay health workers (BHWs), are attending the basic FSL training-workshop here from July 3 to 5.

He said knowing the basics in FSL will enable the health workers convey messages and instructions on health services for deaf clients, diagnose the illness accurately, and provide appropriate treatment.

“Learning the basic FSL will prevent inaccuracy and errors in communication that can pose health risk and liability to health providers,” he said.

Glen Ramos, head of the DOH Calabarzon Media Relations and Communications Unit (MRCU), said the FSL module contains basic signs for communication with patients with hearing difficulties such as alphabet, numbers, greetings, time, days, months and questions frequently asked during emergencies.

Data from Philippine Statistics Authority (PSA) revealed that Calabarzon has the highest number of persons with disabilities (PWDs) with 193,000 followed by the National Capital Region with 167,000; Central Luzon – 139,000; Western Visayas – 138,000; and Central Visayas –109,000.

The Cordillera Region has the lowest record at 26,000 PWDs. (PNA)

'Disaster Risk Officer for every LGU a must'- Sen. Bong Revilla

SEN. BONG REVILLA

To strengthen the country's emergency response system during natural and man-made calamities, Sen. Bong Revilla filed a bill seeking the creation of a permanent item for a disaster risk officer in every local government.

Because the Philippines is located near the Pacific Region near the equator, an average of 15-20 tropical cyclones and storms enter its area of responsibility. In addition to this, recent earthquakes and possible volcanic eruptions continue to threaten the life and safety of Filipinos.

Revilla firmly believes that a strong network for disaster risk reduction and response mechanism is necessary to prepare for any upcoming disasters.

In response to Republic Act 10121, known as the Philippine Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Act of 2010, the National Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Framework (NDRRMF) will manage the disaster risk reduction in every local government unit.

The agency shall actively participate in recognizing, researching, treatment and supervision of different kinds of disasters to minimize its impact through strengthening the response capacity of the government.

At present, citizens all over the country are being oriented with the proper procedures and methods of disaster risk reduction.

"If we designate a permanent disaster risk officer in every LGU, we will be able to de-centralize the duties and responsibilities of the NDRRMC and empower the locality so that they may work together in implementing a disaster management plan based on their locality," Revilla explained.

Revilla's bill is complementary with RA 10121, promoting a more efficient structure for organizations in terms of disaster risk reduction and response.

FREE SKIN CONSULTATION

Almost 200 students of Sisters of Mary School -Girlstown in Brgy. Biga 2, Silang underwent free skin consultation conducted by the medical staff of Cavite Provincial Health Office in cooperation with the Municipal Health Office of Silang on July 9, 2019. Scabies and an-an were the common skin disease seen among the students, while one patient who was suspected with leprosy was referred to MHO for slit skin test to confirm the condition. Patients were given free vitamins, skin ointments, soap, insect repellent lotion and head lice treatment shampoo. Ms. Haydelisa Maderazo, National Leprosy Control Program (NLCP) provincial coordinator gave a short lecture on skin disease awareness, proper care and hygiene as part of the continuous Kilatis Kutis Campaign of the Provincial Health Office.

University, as presented by PBEd Executive Director Love Basillote.

Launched in 2015 by PBEd, the STEP UP program is designed to produce high-quality teachers ready for public school employment by 2019. Funded by the Australian Government under the Basic Education Sector Transformation (BEST) program, it also aims to attract top college graduates and professionals into the teaching profession by offering them competitive scholarship packages.

Briones underscored the importance of quality teachers in achieving quality education and recognized PBEd's contribution to this.

"We want now to concentrate and to pivot on quality education and quality education cannot be achieved or nurtured or developed without quality teachers. This is what we are doing—what you are doing is very important, a very important contribution," the Secretary stated.

Furthermore, Briones reiterated the Department's efforts to improve the teachers' welfare, including strengthening their professional training and development through the transformation of the National Educators Academy of the Philippines (NEAP).

Department of Education (DepEd) Secretary Leonor Magtolis Briones formally recognized the turnover of scholars under the Philippine Business for Education's (PBEd) Scholarships for Teacher Education Programs to Upgrade Teacher Quality in the Philippines (STEP UP) during a partnership mixer at Makati Shangri-la on June 28.

"We want to transform our academy into a force which will help and result in more teachers being motivated, more teachers truly wanting to teach. And I always tell teachers, the greatest humans have always been teachers. Look at all the Nobel Prize winners, the trailblazers—they were academics, they were teachers."

Meanwhile, PBEd assured DepEd that the STEP UP scholars are ready to join the Department and contribute to the realization of its vision and mission.

"You have all worked hard and I think I can speak for the PBED leadership, our partners in the Australian government, and the 10 leading teacher education institutions in the country when I say that indeed, you are ready for the classroom and fully equipped with the skills, knowledge, and values expected of a 21st century teacher so that all children may learn well. Congratulations, STEP UP scholars," Basillote said.

"I have no doubt that the Australia's partnership with PBEd would make a significant contribution to the quality of Filipino education. And I hope that you will keep the fire burning within you as you take your next step in your teaching career," Australian Ambassador to the Philippines Steven Robinson added.

Also present in the partnership mixer were DepEd Undersecretary for Planning, Human Resource and Organizational Development, and Field Operations Jesus Mateo; OIC of the Office of the Undersecretary for Curriculum and Instruction, Director IV Diosdado San Antonio; and OIC of the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Curriculum and Instruction, Director IV Alma Torio.

Divine Mercy Reflection

Sanctity Is Never Achieved on Our Own

Do you aspire to holiness of life? If so, you cannot do this on your own. You need the help of another, and even many others. The Lord has given us numerous ways to be directed by the loving hand of others. Some are blessed to have a spiritual director of many years who directs them in accord with the Mind and Heart of Christ. But most are called to rely upon the general direction offered by Christ through His Church. We do so when we find a confessor to whom we regularly confess our sins. We do so when we study the lives of the saints and learn from their wisdom. We do so when we listen attentively at Mass seeking to soak in the words our Lord wishes to speak. And we do so when we allow people of true holiness to come to know our souls so as to offer their humble counsel (See Diary #938).

How do you allow the Lord to direct your soul? Do you listen to Him speak to you in Confession? Do you listen attentively at Mass, through the wisdom of the saints and through the teachings of the Church? Do you seek out those people whom God has placed in your life to help you on your way? Reflect, today, upon the ways that God wants to use others to help direct your life toward holiness and embrace this gift as His act of abundant Mercy.

Lord, You and You alone are my Director and Guide.

But You choose to guide me through the mediation of others. May I always be willing to humble myself so as to receive the many helps You offer me through this journey of life. I pray I will never turn away from these instruments of Your Mercy and grace. Jesus, I trust in You.

Alicaya, Jr., Public Schools District Supervisors Dr. Amelita Peñalba and Mr. Saturnino A. Hernandez, Mr. Charlie G. Garcia, District ALS Mobile Teacher and Mr. Noel M. Alegre, OIC-Provincial Warden.

Guest Speaker Norielyn C. Narciso, Principal II of Kaytitinga National High School in Alfonso, Cavite congratulated the graduates and believed that they will also be successful citizens when they return to the mainstream of society. Vice-Governor Jolo Revilla who was the Guest of Honor likewise congratulated the graduates and stressed that education is not limited to those outside prison but also to those behind bars. He gladly shared that his father, Senator Bong Revilla was also an Alternative Learning System graduate. Vice Governor led the awarding of 9 elementary and 6 high school honor students.

Present during the ceremony were Mokja Church Pastors Park Seungil and Koo Bonshik, service providers from Korea, families and friends of the graduates, teachers, CPJ employees and staff and other inmates.

Negokart and starter kits to parents of child laborers to enable their families to start their livelihood as a preventive measure against child labor.

The labor department has also partnered with the Technical Education and Skills Development Authority (TESDA) and Industrial Tripartite Councils for the provision of skills training to former child laborers to help them land decent employment.

“Eliminating child

labor calls for intensified convergence efforts from various government agencies, non-government organizations, local government units, and the communities. We must work together in advocating for a child-labor free Philippines by understanding the problem that puts our children at harm,” Bello said.

During the recent observance of the World Day Against Child Labor held at the GSIS Theater in Pasay City, the DOLE along with its social partners encouraged communities to be active partners of the government in ending child labor.

These initiatives of the labor department are aligned with the Philippine Development Plan 2017-2022, which targets to reduce the cases of child labor by 30 percent or 630,000 from the estimated 2.1 million child laborers nationwide. (PIA InfoComm/DOLE)
