Bahay Tuluyan, a government-managed foster care facility established by the DSWD, serves as a safe haven for girls aged 5 to 17, who have experienced different forms of violence, including neglect, sexual exploitation, and maltreatment. The center not only supports survivors in rebuilding their resilience but also works to reunite and strengthen family ties.

Aside from providing shelter and rehabilitation, the center also equips residents with skills training to prepare them for reintegration into their families and communities, the DSWD said.

"As part of the interventions inside the center, residents are provided with skills training that they can use while undergoing rehabilitation, and also once they are reintegrated into their families and communities," DSWD IV-A said in a statement.

The agency reported that 17 girls residing in the facility recently earned their National Certificate II in Bread and Pastry Production.

In addition to livelihood interventions, the Pediatric Department of the De La Salle Medical and Health Sciences Institute (DLSMHSI) also conducted free health checkups and shared educational sessions focused on child safety.

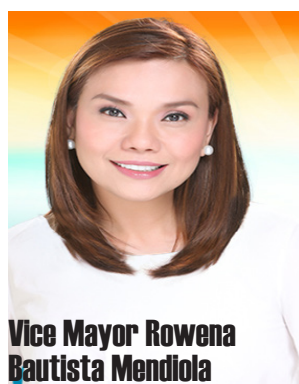

According to Joie Asutilla Ballo-Allo, nurse at Bahay Tuluyan ng mga Bata, these activities are vital in the children's re-

Empowered to Serve: Capacitating a New Breed of Future Meat Inspectors in CALABARZON

As we officially close the 30th Basic Meat Inspection Course (BMIC), we proudly celebrate the journey of 20 dedicated future meat inspectors from CALABARZON who have successfully completed their intensive training!

Participants underwent a rigorous training program at DA-ATI CALABARZON in Trece Martires City, Cavite, with hands-on field exposure in slaughterhouses across the region.

but a holistic support

Debunking a common misconception, Morata stressed that it is not just giving financial assistance, but social workers thoroughly assessing the specific needs of the situation of an individual. It can include financial and material aid, ranging from family food packs (FFPs) to assistive devices, psychosocial support, and referral services.

The AICS program assists with burial, medical, food, and transportation needs, including help in paying hospital bills through the issuance of guarantee letters (GLs). The maximum amount of cash assistance given is Php 10,000, depending on the assessment of the social worker, and it can be exceeded through the issuance of a guarantee letter. (GLDG/PIA-NCR)

PRESS RELEASE

Remulla: National Forensics Institute a Major Leap for PH Justice System

Interior and Local Government Secretary Jonvic Remulla on Wednesday said the newly launched National Forensics Institute (NFI) is a major step in transforming the country's justice system, providing accurate and science-based forensic results crucial in solving crimes.

Speaking at the groundbreaking ceremony at the University of the Philippines Manila, Secretary Remulla underscored the institute's role in strengthening criminal investigations. "Dito, sigurado na kung bakit, sigurado na kung anong kinamatay, at sigurado na rin yung mga scientific evidence para sa convictions or acquittal ng mga suspects natin," he said.

Also present at the launch were Executive Secretary Lucas Bersamin, Justice Secretary Jesus Crispin Remulla, Australian Ambassador H.K. Yu, Monash University Senior Vice President Craig Jeffrey, and UP Manila Chancellor Michael Tee.

DSWD: Assistance to Individuals in Crisis Situation program open to all

The Department of Social Welfare and Development clarified in a media forum that the Assistance to Individuals in Crisis Situation (AICS) program is a short-term assistance available to anyone facing a crisis, regardless of socioeconomic status.

DSWD Director Edwin Morata from the Crisis Intervention Division (CID) emphasized that AICS is a stop-gap measure and not a long-term program to alleviate poverty, challenging the misconception that AICS only targets the poor.

"Ang tina-target dito sa AICS ay (iyung) crisis situation. Nanini-wala po kasi kami sa siyentipikong pagtingin ng social worker na ang isang tao ay maaaring may kakayahang tumugon sa kanyang pangangailangan. But there is a situation that shocked them and their capacity to provide for their situation kaya dito pumapasok ang AICS," Morata said.

(AICS focuses on crisis situations. We believe, from a social worker's perspective, that individuals are generally capable of meeting their own needs. But when a situation overwhelms their ability to cope, that's where AICS steps in.)

Morata also reiterated that, rich or poor, employed or unemployed, those experiencing a crisis do not need a referral letter to avail of the program. Those who need to avail of the program can directly visit the nearest DSWD offices from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

AICS also provides support to financially incapacitated, internally displaced persons, and persons of concern, such as refugees, asylum seekers, and families of Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs).
